Poem by Uncle John

NEIGHBORS

Whe na feller loves his neighbor, like the ten commandments means, it lifts up common people to the stage of kings an' queens; there's music floatin' everywhere, on every blamy breeze, an' the harmony is echoed by the robins in the trees.

The devil never camps around a lovin' neighborhood, an' there ain't no "latest gossip" to pizen people's blood, but there's borrowin' an' lendin' with a willin' heart an' hand, an' a wholesome lendin' sperit that the children understand.

I never liked to be afeard of trampin some ones toes, nor to see a skyward angle onto Mrs. Henpeck's nose, an' the time when I was sickest, which it lasted more'n a week, was when I jawed at Bilkins, an' neither wouldn't speak.

There's lots of sorry pastime that associates with gall, but fussin' with a neighbor is the sorriest of 'em all.

FOCH AT TOMB OF WASHINGTON

It was an inspiring moment for those permitted to be present, when Marshal Foch, commander-in-chief of all allied armies, visited the tomb of Washington on his second day in America. The great French hero placed a wreath in tribute to the genius of Washington. Foch's arrival in America for the American Legion convention at Kansas City and attendance at the Armament conference in Washington, marked the start of the most enthusiastic reception ever accorded a foreign visitor.
All the way across the continent, Marshal Foch and General Pershing were met by record crowds, who cheered until Foch himself was often moved to tears of appreciation.

TWO PILGRIMS

1921

The first fall harvest of the Pilgrim
Fathers, just three centuries ago, typified THRIFT.

Golden grain and fat turkeys meant more to them than bags of gold as they faced the long New England winters.

Time moved on and our nation prospered.
Our definition of harvest has broadened, but we are none the less thankful for our stored-up thrift.

Today it is often the growing BANK ACCOUNT that we are thankful for.
Many folks have had occasion to thank the intelligence which prompted a saving account.

After all, MONEY is the real harvest
—the ultimate return on our labors—bringing us the comforts and joys of living.

This bank HELPS you save—by adding 4 per cent. $5 a week will mean more than $260 to your account before NEXT Thanksgiving Day.
